

Question 1: Why do we need to split the code into multiple files in JavaScript?

Ans: To organize and modularize the code

Question 1: How do you use the "import" and "export" keywords in JavaScript?

Ans: By importing and exporting variables, functions, or classes between files

Question 1: What is a named export in JavaScript?

Ans: Exporting multiple variables or functions with specific names

Question 1: What is the primary effect of setting type="module" in a <script> tag?

Ans: It enables ES6+ features

Question 1: How to rename a variable during import and export in JavaScript?

Ans: Using the as keyword

Question 1: What is default export in JavaScript?

Ans: A single export from a module