

Question 1: What is the primary purpose of the new keyword in JavaScript?

Ans: To create a new object

Question 2: What is XMLHttpRequest (XHR)?

Ans: An object to handle HTTP requests

Question 3: How can we send a request using XHR?

Ans: By calling the send() method

Question 4: How would we know when we got the data from XHR?

Ans: By checking the readyState property

Question 5: How do we convert a JSON string to an object in JavaScript?

Ans: Using the JSON.parse() method

Question 6: What is the purpose of the onload event handler property in XHR?

Ans: To handle HTTP errors

Question 7: What is the purpose of the readystatechange event in XHR?

Ans: To handle HTTP requests